

The Barn

Artist: Eddy Poindexter

411 E. 9th Avenue

Lumbert's Auto Salvage (inside)

This mural was painted on the walls when the business was the “Country Barn Café”. The building itself was built in 1987 as a rodeo arena and used as such, but there was only a snack bar in the arena. Lois Henderson wanted to build a café for the rodeo, so in 1994 Jacob Henderson built the café. Because she named it the “Country Barn”, she wanted a scene of a working barn to be painted using that theme; so she hired Eddy Poindexter to decorate her café.
